Secret Spot brings a modern take to a classic Pale Ale. It's gentler in bitterness, and you actually get nuanced malt flavors. In this Pacific Pale, hops play a complimentary, not dominant, role. This is the beer that you can hit the trails with, then enjoy a 6-pack and still feel good the next day. It's low ABV but still has all of the flavors and aromas that you expect out of a great craft beer.

"It's a beer you can drink after your trail run...
